*Harrow District
High School
Harrow, Ontario*

The Beginning

In the past year, we have seen in Mr. Lougheed a leader, a friend, a counsellor. He is respected by all of the students of Harrow High and by the people of the community. This respect comes for the qualities that make up a man dedicated to his work--to helping others achieve their goals.

Mr. Lougheed has been a welcome tonic for Harrow. He possesses just the right amount of power, just the right amount of realization that we both need and want a new high school and a big overdose of enthusiasm and love to make his biggest project--a new and better building in which to educate his students — a smashing success.

Harrow High was a good school once, but it fell, and the students fell with it. Mr. Lougheed has pulled us up out of our slump. Mr. Lougheed gave us the go-ahead for many projects both fund raising and school improving. Instead of shutting us out, or putting us down, Mr. Lougheed has offered encouragement, which is a rare thing in many schools. He does not take our problems lightly, but instead has maintained throughout the year an "Open Door Policy" to any questions we may have, or anything we'd like to discuss--from getting a double lunch hour to parking our cars on the grass to painting the washrooms.

Once on our feet, we can now stand up for ourselves, and with Mr. Lougheed as our leader, we will once again reach the top — and stay there.

Principal's Message

Natures's hawk has many reasons for pride; the Harrow Hawk is likewise blessed. Our athletes have collected a number of championships, including that most elusive one, the All-Ontario. Our scholars have produced marks that put us among the top academic schools of the province. We are thus continuing a proud tradition that began over 50 years ago. But the thing that makes this year a special one is the return of the true Hawk pride to our student body . . . pride in your work, pride in doing for yourselves, pride in being part of the biggest little school in the world. This year you have done a remarkable job of restoring our image in the eyes of the world. The respect that you have earned this year is well deserved but it must be only a forerunner of the future. With a team of the best students and the finest staff in the country we are going to continue to soar those heights until the Harrow Hawk is permanently restored to his rightful place in the heavens.

R. C. Loughheed

Vice-Principal's Message

School is a small but vibrant community where young people learn to work hard and to play together for mutual benefit. I hope that you have made lasting friends here amongst your fellow students and that you will come to realize that your teachers too have only your best interests at heart. I wish you graduates every success and true happiness in whatever worthwhile venture you take on after leaving us.

Good luck to you.

Brian Harrison

Student Council

Both the Teen Club and the Student Council were important organizations this year. The Student Council, under the leadership of Bill Gall, had many successful campaigns to raise both money and morale. The Teen Club's efforts were equally good and equally successful. Best wishes and good luck to next year's Student Council and Teen Club.

Suppose that all the actors and actresses of television were unable to play their roles for a week. Who could the networks possibly find for replacements? Why, the Harrow District High School Staff, of course!

In the mornings, MRS. DREXLER could be seen on Chex Helene, and MR. TROMBLEY would be busy exercising as Jack LaLanne. Children would be delighted to see MR. HARRISON, as Mr. Greenjeans on Captain Kangaroo, taking care of all the animals. The Galloping Gourmet, portrayed by MR. DONOHOE, would interject words of helpfulness to busy housewives.

Try to picture MR. NESPOLON as Oliver Douglas of Green Acres, living out "in the sticks." However, Oliver seems to have traded his tractor for a motorcycle. Twice every day, MR. TRUDELL would astound the world with his intelligence as a secret spy, Maxwell Smart, of Get Smart. Imagine MRS. PEAVER as That Girl, in an exciting new city, (Harrow?) MR. WILLIAMS, with his storehouse of scientific knowledge, could act as the Professor on Gilligan's Island.

MR. HOLMES would never be seen on the screen for he would be the computer on the quiz shows, calculating the points of teams. Three eligible bachelorettes for the Dating Game could be MISS NEWMAN, MISS PARENT and MISS PASIECZNY. Portraying Carol Davall, with her handy sewing hints, would be MRS. SEMENIUK. Imagine MR. LACHMANSINGH as Wilbur Post, of Mister Ed. To replace George Pierrot, MR. CONGDON could show scenes of Labrador. Important "Soap Operas" would certainly have roles to be filled by MRS. WALTERS and MISS SHANBON.

Evening shows are often more widely watched than daytime ones. Because of her singing talent, MRS. SEGUIN could portray Shirley Jones of the Partridge Family. Try to see MR. LOUGHEED as Marshall Dillon, of Gunsmoke, with MR. SIMPSON as his trusty right-hand man, Festus. Bill Cosby's show would not be taken off the air, for MR. OBINABO could handle the task very well. Daily, MR. JOHNSON acts as a Perry Mason, solving everyone's problems. And last but not least, political figures cannot be forgotten, so MR. POUGET would be able to deliver any important speeches.

Mrs. McKenzie and Miss Woodiwiss are very busy recording mid-term marks.

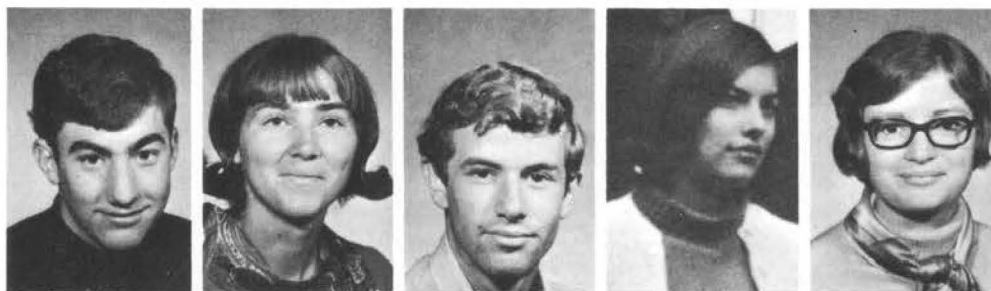

Mr. Bruner works long and hard to keep our school spotless.

Valedictory Address

Good Evening Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Graduates.

The very first thing I want to say is "Congratulations" to the graduates. Your diploma tonight might just be a piece of paper but your high school diploma is the biggest and the best key you'll ever receive to open the doors of the future.

It is quite an honour to be valedictorian for the graduating class but I found when I sat down to write something and my mind wandered to the picture of two hundred to three hundred people in front of me, the one butterfly in my stomach immediately created a population explosion and the bones which ordinarily hold my knees together, felt like feathers. But, maybe if I lean hard on this lecturn, I'll be able to stand while I say a few words. The honour graduates here have really passed from one way of life to another. Many are in a higher form of education and some are members of the working world. Now, if your morning professor or your employer was of Italian origin, would you run and check his lunch to see if he always brought pizza sandwiches? But we did that in high school, didn't we? Poor Mr. Nespolon.

Now we've got enough work to do that we don't always wait till the night before to get started on a long term assignment.

If you took or are taking French in this last year of high school, I'm sure the two words that stick in your mind are self-discipline and responsibility. I know there were times last year when we'd have liked to remove these words from the dictionary on the grounds that they were overworked. But I'm sure in the last two months away from home, we have all fully realized the importance of these words.

So, as we start a new phase of our life, we try to set up new ideals for ourselves. One of the best ways to start is to change your outlook on school or on life as the case may be. Everyday we should get up and say, "Today I am going to be happy." Last year, about halfway through the year, I'd get up in the morning, look outside and say, "Ugh!" Do I have to get up? If only I could hibernate for the rest of the year." The best way to cultivate this idea of being happy is to smile at the first ten people you meet, you've made your day right there. You have made somebody else happy.

Secondly, appreciate every situation you encounter. One philosopher stated "If we appreciate what we have, it always becomes more. If we belittle what we have, it always becomes less." Also, learn to appreciate people. Accept other people for what they are. We must be very wary of first impressions and be careful not to type people in a particular group. Everyone is an individual and deserves to be trusted as one. I'll tell you a little story to help illustrate my point. A certain teacher had labelled her students with the titles slow learner, gifted, and hyperactive. One little boy, who did all his paintings in purple was labelled as mentally deficient. Thinking she had a severe problem, she contacted the principal who later contacted the psychologist. They were all determined to get to the root of the problem. Before they had a word with the boy, the janitor came in. Going over to the little boy's desk, he said, "Hey Johnny, why do you do all of your paintings in purple?" And Johnny replied, "Because I have to pass out the crayons and that's the only colour left."

Lastly, learn to appreciate yourself. I don't mean to change your facial features so that your nose becomes the highest part of your body. Rather, learn to appreciate your talents. If you always walk around saying, "Poor me" and "I can't do this and I can't do that," you'll never generate a higher opinion of yourself. I experienced an outstanding example of this within the first two weeks at the Teacher's College. In the very first art class, our assignment was to draw an elephant setting on a nest in a tree. The classic remark was, "I can't draw an elephant." Then you get someone who says, "I can't even draw a straight line with a ruler." But it's easy to draw an elephant. By the end of the class, everybody had an elephant that looked like an elephant.

With these few thoughts, I'll leave you.

The Hawks swept through Essex County league without as much as a defeat. Because of new regulations, a final and deciding game for E.C.S.S.A. was played at Harrow on October twelfth, 1970, at 3:15. Once again Kirk Lypps strove past Leamington defences with the artistry of a master. Wayne Capstick was brilliant on defense and the Hawks won 4 to 3.

Wallaceburg was the opponent, the S.W.O.S.S.A. crown was at stake but the Hawks flew high and won 4 to 1.

All Ontario was one pillar and the Hawks were ready. On the morning of October 31 the tournament started. The Hawks lost the first game 1 to 0 to George Harvey, the Toronto representative, but they won the consolation round by defeating Hamilton 2 to 1. For Mr. Loughheed the Hawks still fly the Highest.

Volleyball

The Senior Boys' Volleyball team remained undefeated throughout the 1970-71 season. Their outstanding ability swept them easily through the ECSSA and SWOSSA tournaments to finally capture the highly coveted "All Ontario Championship". Last summer Dean Boose, Cary Lamoure and Clifford Stevens improved their spiking skills by attending a one week clinic at Waterloo University. Combined with the spectacular efforts of Mr. R. Trombley they possessed the ability needed to obtain the ultimate triumph. This great victory brought pride and satisfaction to the team members and their school since it was a first for Harrow High.

SWOSSA Champions

The Senior Girls had a very successful basketball season. Under the expert leadership of our noble leader, Penny Miller, (along with some help from our coach Miss Newman) the Senior Girls completed the season with only a three-game loss.

In order to win their S.W.O.S.S.A. title the Senior Girls faced a formidable team from Merlin. Even though the opposition had a terrific advantage, THE HORSE, the girls narrowly defeated Merlin and claimed their title. The pizza party which followed the game was a smashing success. THE WRESTLING TEAM

This year the wrestling team proved to be one of the better teams in South Western Ontario. In only the second year of existence, the team battled their way through the regular season and the tough S.W.O.S.S.A. tournament.

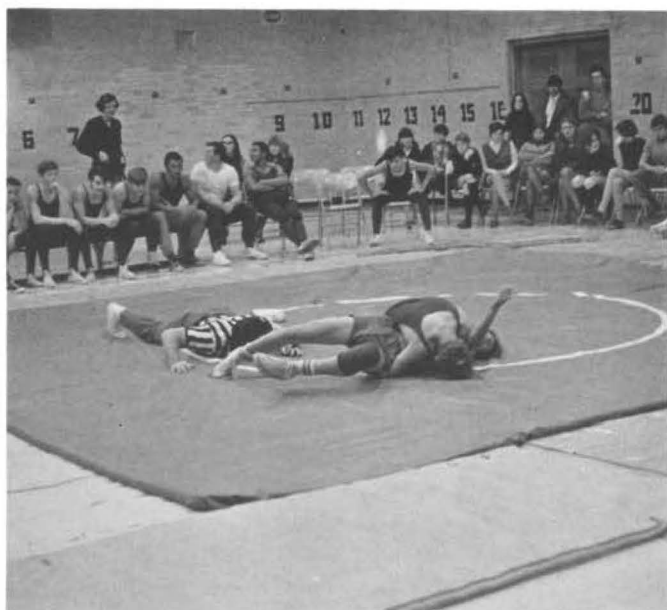

The team was coached this year by a duo, both outstanding grapplers in their own right. Mr. S. J. Puttman from Kingsville and Mr. Doug Simpson, a member of the staff at Harrow High both proved their ability and worth by coaching the team to a sixth place in a field of fifteen at S.W.O.S.S.A. Team manager Randy Cyr was also a big plus factor in our grapplers' favour. A wrestler himself before sustaining an injury, Randy assisted the team in all manner of ways.

Although the team was unable to fall all fourteen of the weight divisions, a big improvement in support was noted. Perhaps in future years, the male population of the school will show even more support and provide a full team to the school.

Individual Essex County Champions, all with undefeated records were David Martin, Kelly Golden and Bradley Martin. Brad Martin was also a S.W.O.S.S.A. champion, David a second and Kelly Golden ran into bad luck and finished fourth in his division. Listed below are the weight classes and our wrestlers in each division.

90-	130 - Morley McLean	168 - Doug McLean
98 - Mike Paladeau	136 - Peter Taylor	179 - John Welzel
106 - Dan Bondy	141 - Brad Martin	194 - Steve Grayer
115 - David Martin	148 - Jim Schere	Unlimited - Bill Gall
123 - Kelly Golden	157 - Harold Rayner

The team also consisted of such back-up wrestlers as Keith Wright, Ted Gorski, and Joe Gorski.

"The Editor"--it sounds good, doesn't it? This brings to mind a fat grouchy man, bald, and smoking an equally fat cigar. He is frantic because he thinks he cannot meet his deadline. He is beginning to wonder why he ever got stuck with the job, when miraculously, the smoke from his cigar clears, and a brand new magazine, or newspaper, or what-have-you is dropped on his desk. The Editor of this yearbook is much the same, with the exception that I am not so fat or bald, but just as equally frantic until the time when everyone has received his or her yearbook.

It is not difficult to put out a year book with so many people willing and able to help. I would like to thank David McLachlan, Avelino Gomes, Jay Golden, Karl Staddon, and Charles Darby for taking many of the pictures for this yearbook. The grade 11C marketing class was in charge of selling Advertisements under the direction of Mr. Simpson. He launched one of the largest advertisement campaigns in the history of the Harrow High yearbook. The sales of the books were up this year, compared to previous years. The over all picture of this year would indicate a very successful and profitable year for the yearbook club.

I would like to take this time to once again thank anyone who was at all connected with the yearbook. Mr. Pouget and Mr. Lougheed were of great assistance to the staff of Spirit 71' and shared in the many headaches of advising a chaotic yearbook staff.

We would like to express our best wishes and hopes that you enjoy this yearbook.

Allen Fox, Editor

The executive members of the staff of Spirit 71' are making final arrangements as to the cover design, size of the book and the type of paper to be used.
